JUNIOR PLAY

"Mother Is A Freshman"

By Perry Clark

"Mother Is a Freshman" is an engaging and humorous story of an extremely attractive young mother who is forced to attend college with her young daughter who regards her as a "has been."

Abby's first two names are Abigail Fortitude, and anyone with those two names is eligible for a liberal Memorial Scholarship established years ago by a wealthy woman of the same name.

Susan is dead set against her mother's doing anything so crazy. She points out what a lonely old lady she'll be on the campus. Abby, however, sees no other alternative, so they go to college.

If Susan had known what a sensation her young, good-looking mother would cause when she hit that college campus, she'd have wailed even louder.

The Dean of the college suspects that Abigail is up to some joke of publicity stunt.

The Professor of Zoology soon falls for Abby. She doesn't realize that Susan, her daughter, and a number of other girls have a crush on the professor. Susan's foolish maneuvers result in a serious misunderstanding and in an outrage, the now miserable Abby slaps the professor.

This gives the dean his chance and he expels Abby from school.

She has to watch the others go off to the dance while she packs to go home.

However, in the end Abby gets her professor, and Susan realizes her mistake in thinking the Professor has ever loved her.
